Discounted homes
for city makers

Becoming a homeowner in the capital isn't easy. There never seems to be a right time to start the search – until now.

This isn't a shared ownership scheme – you'll own the property 100%.

Pocket Living was established in 2005 to help young Londoners, that don't qualify for social housing and cannot afford the open market, to buy their first home. Becoming a homeowner in the capital isn't easy. With prices continually rising, there never seems to be a right time to start the search – until now.

Pocket Living has been building communities for the past 15 years, by creating purpose-built homes for first time buyers all across London. Our award-winning homes are available to buy for 20% less than the current open market price of comparable homes in the local area.

By offering this discount, we hope to convince renters who are on the brink of leaving London to change their minds and stay put instead. We want to redress the imbalance of the property market and help keep the world's greatest city thriving. This isn't a shared ownership scheme – you'll own the property 100%.

Who are the city makers?

The Broadway performance venue is just a short walk from Barking tube station. Designed by Tim Foster Architects, this centrally located arts centre and entertainment auditorium has a café and well-stocked bar.

Home ownership offers you a lifestyle that renting never can.

At Pocket we've made it our mission to support the city makers. Who are city makers? They are people just like you.

City makers are working in our hospitals, schools, colleges or museums. They're self-employed tradespeople, charity administrators from the voluntary sector or media workers launching digital start-ups in the creative industries. We don't mind what career path they've chosen – because as long as a city maker is a first time buyer, earns under £90,000 and lives or works in London, they qualify for a Pocket home.

Home ownership offers you a lifestyle that renting never could. It puts you firmly in charge of your very own domain; it gives you the freedom to create the home office you've always dreamed of, or the space to invite friends round for dinner. There's no need to compromise anymore, because the only person with keys to the front door of your Pocket home is you.

Every Pocket development has its own unique community feeling, which is great when you need a local network of like-minded people around you. We design our developments with this in mind – offering communal spaces to build new friendships and create a real neighbourhood feeling.

Harbard Close IG11 Development overview

A brand-new development of affordable homes, Harbard Close IG11 has been designed by Clerkenwell-based architects Reed Watts.

Harbard Close consists of 78 one-bedroom apartments, arranged over two 4 storey blocks, rising up to 6 storeys in the centre. 2 of the 78 are wheelchair adaptable for eligible disabled persons.

A short walk to Barking station, Harbard Close is ideally situated for public transport links and local amenities. The apartments themselves have been built with modern living in mind, as a place you can relax and unwind, because we understand how busy city makers' lives can be.

A brand-new development of affordable homes, Harbard Close IG11 has been designed by Clerkenwell-based architects Reed Watts, who have a reputation for planning thoughtful, people-focussed buildings. Describing their approach, partner Matt Watts explained how they felt, "it was particularly important to integrate the new building with the landscape around it. We hope that when residents come through the entrance gate into the garden, that they feel like they are coming home to a relaxing space where they can meet with their neighbours - where they feel like they are part of a community."

We've taken care of all the construction-related details before you move in, so you don't have to worry about some of the obstacles that many first-time homeowners will encounter. Everything has been done, with no D.I.Y necessary.

Harbard Close sits within its very own landscaped garden, complete with communal seating areas and private allotments.

All our developments are designed with communal spaces to help you build new friendships and create a real neighbourhood feeling.

Pocket doesn't just build homes – we're committed to future-proofing our cities.

Pocket show home at Harbard Close IG11.

We started building homes in 2005 and have been committed to continually improving our properties ever since. The valuable feedback we get from members of the Pocket community helps us evaluate what products or ideas we'll put in place for future projects. Long-term thinking is at the forefront of everything we do – making Pocket homes more sustainable, more comfortable and more suited to the needs of first time buyers in London.

Working with local, emerging architectural practices gives us the freedom to be a bit more creative and experimental with our building designs. As well as understanding what the neighbourhood has to offer, they are experts at crafting homes that can fulfil the needs of city makers – many of whom, have already spent a good chunk of time in shared accommodation. Wave goodbye to queuing for the bathroom each morning – in a Pocket home, every room is yours.

Every apartment has big windows and high ceilings to maximise natural light, a fully-fitted kitchen with built-in appliances, cleverly-positioned storage for life's essentials and a single floor finish throughout to unify the space. Freshly-painted white walls, clean lines, integrated light fittings and high-spec finishes – the perfect blank canvas for a brand-new start. All you need to do is put your stamp on it.

Carefully-considered spaces – inside and out

Every apartment has been designed as the perfect blank canvas for a brand-new start.

Pocket doesn't just build homes – we create spaces that give city makers a real sense of belonging. Because we only sell our properties to first time buyers, everyone living at Harbard Close will be an owner-occupier and from experience, this shared sense of a new beginning helps generate a feeling of proud neighbourhood spirit.

Everyone at Harbard Close has access to the communal gardens, which are landscaped with wild meadow grasses, allotment beds, seated dining areas and a ping-pong table.

The commitment to future-proofing our cities doesn't stop there. We've included secure bike storage inside the building for the cyclists. On-site allotment beds will allow green-fingered residents to share gardening tips and food-growing knowledge – hopefully inspiring others at Harbard Close to join in.

For city makers who prefer to relax indoors, look no further than The Garden Room. A communal space with bean bags and laid-back interior décor, this versatile room can be booked out for fitness classes, yoga or events. There are electrical sockets and workspaces – just in case you fancy socialising or working somewhere other than your apartment. Reassuringly, everything is fob accessed and only for the residents of Harbard Close.

The Garden Room – a communal space with laid back interior decor, this versatile space can be booked for yoga, socialising or for catching up on emails.

Redefining Barking

Barking & Dagenham is an area undergoing significant, positive change.

Barking has been at the heart of English history since the Domesday era. After his victory at the battle of Hastings in 1066, William the Conqueror famously took up residence at Barking Abbey and enjoyed a spot of medieval sofa surfing during the construction of his official residence – the Tower of London.

These days, it's an area undergoing significant, positive changes. The regeneration of Barking & Dagenham has accelerated rapidly over the past few years and will continue to do so, as young people move further eastwards in search of affordable homes. With excellent transport links to central London (Oxford Circus in under 30 minutes) and works underway to extend the Gospel Oak Overground line to include a new stop for Barking in 2021, the future is looking bright for this well connected, vibrant borough.

Left: One of the many independent eateries in Barking. Welcoming and laid-back, there's no better place to relax, or meet friends.

The Boathouse is a multi-purpose venue, with a café selling craft beers, cocktails, flat whites and tasty food. A converted warehouse, this characterful space has been renovated to include space for exhibitions, rehearsals and yoga. The outdoor terrace with industrial-style tables and festoon lights is a great spot for a local sundowner. Ice House Court Studios offer a range of affordable studios for artists and other creatives.

Cycling, running and strolling routes give city makers a chance to commute to neighbouring Wanstead, East Ham, Forest Gate or Stratford with relative ease. With its very own lake and mature woodland area, Barking Park dates back to 1898 and is now home to the annual Jazz festival. Barking Abbey Ruins have been popular with English heritage lovers for centuries – the site of Captain Cook's marriage ceremony, it now plays host to music concerts and events throughout the year.

Built in 1573, Eastbury Manor House is Barking's very own Elizabethan building. Now fully restored and owned by the National Trust, its tranquil gardens are the perfect place for a summer stroll.

Barking Park has its own fleet of rowing and pedal boats for hire. Open from Easter until October, there's no better way to spend a lazy Sunday afternoon.

Bounce, roll or climb at Better Extreme. A local, affordable sporting facility with trampolining, skateboarding and indoor climbing. Open 7 days a week.

Originally built in the 1860s, the newly renovated Malthouse overlooks the river Roding. It's now a multi-purpose exhibition space with creative studios for local artists or designers.

Left: The oldest park in the borough, Barking Park was first opened in the 1890s. There's plenty of green open space to enjoy, with a boating lake, tree lined avenues, wildflower meadows and playing fields.

The trail that runs alongside the river Roding is ideal for cycling, running or walking.

An abundance of wildlife at Barking's very own nature reserve, Mayesbrook Park.

Barking's bustling street market is open all year round, 4 days a week.

A local gem, Cristina's is a firm favourite in Barking. Rustic and friendly with a great wine list, this restaurant always gets excellent reviews.

With amazing river views, The Boathouse Bar is the best place to kick back with a book and a craft beer (or two).

Pre-performance drinks, coffee, snacks and light meals are all available at the café bar inside The Broadway theatre, located in the heart of Barking, close to Abbey Green.

Once you've passed your affordability assessment, you'll be able to book a viewing at our show home via My Pocket. During the viewing, a member of the Pocket team will be on hand to answer your questions.

How to buy

- 01 If you like what you see at your viewing, visit our website, go to My Pocket and submit an Expression of Interest. You can select up to ten homes.

- 02 If we're able to offer you a Pocket home, we'll put an Offer Letter into your My Pocket account. This will set out the buying process and ask you to upload various documents into your My Pocket account, pay a Reservation Fee, meet an Independent Mortgage Adviser such as Censeo Financial and choose a solicitor. Don't worry, we'll recommend reliable people.

- 03 Once we've checked your documents, we'll put a Reservation Form into your My Pocket account. Sign this form and upload it into your account.

- 04 You'll now need to instruct your solicitor and we'll brief Pocket's solicitor to start work on your purchase.

- 05 With the help of your Independent Mortgage Adviser, submit your full mortgage application.

- 06 Follow the process as advised by your solicitor and exchange contracts at this stage. We're now legally bound to sell it to you and you're legally bound to purchase the flat.

- 07 When your apartment is ready and your solicitor has completed your purchase, we'll hand over your keys and you can move in.
