

People and companies: Muse Developments hires regional director

This week's appointments and promotions

Thomasin Renshaw (pictured, right) has joined Pocket Living as a director to lead its development team on residential projects planned in London.

The Instant Group has promoted Lucinda Pullinger (pictured, second right) to managing director for the UK. She joined the business two and a half years ago and will be responsible for leading its growth strategy.

Muse Developments has appointed James Pitt (pictured, second left), former development director at Evans Property Group, as regional director to drive its Yorkshire and North East expansion.

The Grosvenor Estate has appointed Ian Mair (pictured, left) to the new position of group services director from 1 October.

Cushman & Wakefield has appointed Marcus Wood as head of UK retail capital markets. He will join as an international partner later this year from JLL to lead the team on transactional activity.

Colliers has bolstered its ESG advisory capabilities with the appointment of James Pay as head of sustainability. He previously worked for Laing O'Rourke and Multiplex.

Solihull-based Terra Strategic has appointed Richard Pitt as strategic planning director to boost its residential land and development opportunities. He joins from housing association Bromford.

Catalyst has promoted Polly Gardner to land, partnerships and pre-construction director for its London development team. In her new role, she will secure new land and partnership opportunities for the housing association's affordable housing pipeline in the capital.